Dear Friend:

Now you can train at home to be ready to step into the exciting, rapidly growing field of Massage Therapy.

Professional Massage Therapists charge $40.00, $50.00, up to $60.00 per massage and more!

Massage Therapists make GREAT money while they bring the benefits of health and relaxation to millions of people all across the country. It's a satisfying, fun career that offers freedom, flexibility, security and prestige.

Could you start your career even before you graduate?

It's possible, depending on where you live. When you complete the academic part of your training, you will receive a letter recognizing your achievement. Since nearly half of the states in the U.S. do not require any licensing to perform massage therapy, you may be able to begin working at this time.

Could you earn $1.00 a minute working as a Massage Therapist?

Yes! It's true! Employees in high-profile Manhattan stocktrading and finance offices have been known to pay up to $1.00 per minute for chair massage treatments. As work-related stress increases, companies are willing to pay massage therapy services to come on site. Bringing the benefits of massage into the nation's workplace is a moneymaking, dream-come-true opportunity for Massage Therapists.

Massage Therapy is one of the most popular alternative health treatments today! It's BIG BUSINESS with both full-time and part-time opportunities!

Massage is addictive and Massage Therapists know that once a new client tries a massage, they'll keep coming back for more. As a Massage Therapist you can work full-time or part-time. You can work a full eight-hour schedule or just a few hours a week. The choice is yours.

Don't settle for a certificate of completion! Instead, start your career with the prestige of a Nationally Recognized U.S. Career Institute Diploma!

Don't make the mistake of paying thousands of dollars to attend a residential college or institute and then end up with only a certificate of completion. At USCI you graduate with a nationally recognized career diploma. As one of the nation's leading specialists in home-based medical and health career training, we are fully accredited by the Accrediting Commission of the Distance Education and Training Council in Washington, D.C.

Americans spend over $3,000,000,000 (3 BILLION) on massages each year. The sooner you begin your training, the sooner you'll be ready to take advantage of the growing demand!

Enroll in the School of Massage Therapy program today and soon after receiving your first lesson package, you'll be performing health-giving massage therapy on family and friends.

Then, faster than you ever thought possible, you'll graduate and be ready to begin doing professional Massage Therapy (see enclosed flyer for details about certification). You can start your own private massage service working for yourself or you can work in spas, resorts, health clinics, cruise lines, hospitals and many other exciting places. Even work for pro sport teams!

More than a paycheck... doctors and other health professionals are beginning to realize that Massage Therapy can speed up recovery time for patients.

Now, more than ever before, people are discovering alternative treatments for relief from symptoms that do not respond to conventional medicine. Massage Therapy is one of the most popular of these treatments, which is why many physicians are providing information about massage to their patients. More good news for Massage Therapists is that many health insurance providers now cover massage treatments when they are recommended by the patient's doctor. In light of this, it's not surprising that the U.S. Department of Labor projects the demand for Massage Therapists working in healthcare to increase by 43%!
