Dear Friend:

We're writing you regarding one of the most dynamic career opportunities we've come across in years.

- Now you can train at home for a career in an industry the U.S. Department of Labor predicts will grow faster than most other industries!
- You'll enjoy hands-on learning in our exclusive Virtual Lab.
- You'll master procedures and skills that will make you the medical staff's right-hand resource for excellent patient care. They'll know they can count on you!

Yes! In as little as four months, you can train at home to be a Patient Care Technician! As a Patient Care Technician, you can make good money and pave the way for advancement as your skills and responsibilities grow.

Patient Care Technicians are in demand because they're a vital part of healthcare organizations!

Think of it this way...nearly every hospital, clinic, rehabilitation center and nursing home needs people to keep their facilities humming. Patient Care Technicians help maintain vital health records and prepare patients for their visit with the doctor or nurse. They ensure patients' safety, comfort, hygiene and protection, as well as check their vital signs and make sure each patient feels comfortable and well cared for.

Patient Care Technicians work with registered nurses, medical assistants, nursing assistants and other healthcare professionals in small and large organizations including hospitals, home healthcare agencies, long-term care facilities, assisted living facilities and many more. As they become more experienced, they often are awarded more duties—there is never a dull moment for a Patient Care Technician!

Compare these advantages with any other profession you can train for in such a short time...

What other career can you begin with as little as four months of training at home? And what other training program allows you the flexibility to keep your present job and study when it's convenient, with no classes to attend or schedules to keep? Plus consider these unique benefits...

- You can work as much as you want because Patient Care Technicians can work full-time or part-time.
- Work in a hospital, assisted-living facility, hospice or nursing care facility...all these healthcare organizations need Patient Care Technicians for patient care functions!
- You'll be proud to provide nursing services that will ensure your patients' safety, comfort and well-being.
